

Barry M. Appell, Esq.

Barry Appell has 27 years experience representing both employees and employers in employment litigation in trial and appellate courts, arbitrations, and administrative forums. Barry also provides employers with counseling on employment issues, trainings, handbooks, and investigations. Having represented both sides in employment cases, Barry is uniquely qualified to see cases from both perspectives. Barry has been named to the list of Southern California Super Lawyers every year since 2004.

Barry has successfully completed the Mediating the Litigated Case course at the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution at Pepperdine School of Law. He has also volunteered for several years as a mediator at Los Angeles Superior Court through the Center for Conflict Resolution.
